WE ARE HERE TO CONNECT

BEING CULTURALLY SENSIBLE
WE CONNECT IN FOUR WAYS"

Theointernational is here to connect incoming international students to the services provided by the Protestant Faculty and its staff. International students may not be aware of the wide range of services that our faculty offers, as well as the contact partners responsible for these services. Theointernational, as a decentralized office, connects incoming international students to these services—as well as offers help in practical matters—by being culturally sensible.

THEO TANDEM

Theotandems connects international students to experienced German students from our faculty. In this way, German students can offer assistance and help not only in general questions like living in Mainz or using proper German language, but also in curricular and extracurricular aspects like how to create a timetable or find cultural events offered by the university.
